*The OTHER Foundation works to support the arts by harnessing grass roots creative's and giving them the tools to grow. However, art can be so much more than a thing of aesthetic and conceptual beauty; The OTHER Syndicate utilises the power of the creative world to support local communities. Working with Children's University is an excellent opportunity to show how powerful the arts can be for young people and families in expression, education and enjoyment. Children's University highlights the importance of extra curricular activities, The OTHER Syndicate is built on turning hobbies into tools for individual and social change. Nothing is more powerful than fun.'
